Mechanisms for Learning a Foreign Language: Theory and Practice from the Perspective of Second Language Acquisition Research

Professor HIROMORI Tomohito,
the School of Global Japanese Studies of Meiji University

The purpose of this presentation is to consider effective ways of learning and teaching a foreign language from the perspective of Second Language Acquisition (SLA) research. Concretely, a brief overview of the academic discipline of SLA research and its characteristics will first be provided. Then, the findings obtained through previous studies using two research approaches (namely research emphasizing "universality" and research emphasizing "diversity") will be outlined. Finally, practical methods of learning and teaching a foreign language based on these findings will be introduced.

● Oral & Poster Presentations Sat. Oct. 7 / Sun. Oct. 8 For details, please access our website.
